

Burgas is known as a lifesaving door for 16,000 Jews to the promised land

Tuesday, 16 February 2021

At the entrance to the sea station - Burgas, next to the only remaining authentic building from the construction of the port of Burgas 120 years ago - the tower of the lighthouse's keeper, a memorial plate complements the story of the salvation of the Bulgarian Jews. The initiative for its placing is led by Zeavit Blumenfeld, Dr. Nathan Baruch and the Centre for Jewish-Bulgarian Cooperation "Alef". The memorial plate is installed on the "Prince Alexander Battenberg" №1 street and will be included in the tourist route of Israeli tourists.
