

Burgas is becoming a center for Black sea research

Thursday, 4 March 2021

Burgas will become a national and European center for research activities for studying the flora and fauna of the Black sea. This is the ambition of the Municipality of Burgas and the University "Prof. Dr. Asen Zlatarov", who are implementing a joint project to protect the Burgas Bay from pollution. It is titled "Increasing knowledge of the marine environment for sustainable management of marine resources and achieving the goals of blue growth" and was presented at an online press conference.
