

Once the old piano starts ... at South Bus Station (VIDEO)

Monday, 16 April 2018

Third Grade Stephanie has recently been attending piano lessons, but she has not such instrument at home. To the delight of waiting passengers at South Bus Station, her mother sometimes leads her to exercise there. The time until the bus arrives goes faster when you listen to the old piano. If you have the skills to play this instrument, or at least a desire, you are welcome.

The Municipality of Burgas has recently purchased, restored, tuned the old piano from a popular British brand and placed it in the foyer of the South Bus Station with the purpose of contributing to the creation of a pleasant atmosphere and mood. On the second floor of the building there is a café and a free playroom for children's play, where mothers and toddlers can spend some pleasant hours in a comfortable setting.
